SATURDAY ..... OCTOBER 5, 1861

HEWEMBER the country and forget party at the election on next Tuesday. Do not let that day result so that traitors or their sympolicy within the lines of duty prescribed by pathisers, can take comfort.

Tax people of Vigo county will remember the election on Tuesday next. Jas. Farringrow is the candidate for Representative-a worthy man and entitled to public confidence. His ability and patriotism are equal to the responsibilities of the position.

CLARK S. TUTTLE, the candidate for County Commissioner, is an old citizen, honored and respected, fully qualified-honest, and from his experience the public interest will be promoted by his re-election. Party politics have ceased, and above that the country demands service. We trust that every voter who is in favor of maintaining the Union at ail hazards and at every cost, unconditionally, will turn out and do their duty at the polls.

Wz were right in expressing doubt yesterday, about the truth of the story that Gen. PREMONT had been removed, which seems to have originated with the New Tork Herald. We hope now to hear no more of the complaints against this distinguished officer, at least, until he has had an opportunity of mak ing battle with PRICE and his rebel followers. Until then it is the duty of the Government to lend him all possible assistance, in men and money, that he may not only drive the enemy back from the neighborhood of Lexington, but expel them from the State of Missouri. No heed should be given to the view, therefore, of the consequences, existaccusations against him, unless they should involve the safety of the army and the efficiency of the service: but he should have every possible opportunity to show what kind of metal he is made of. Our confidence in him is not shaken, and we verily believe that he will prove himself to be fully equal to the occasion. Immense responsibility rests upon him, and and if he does not meet it, like a man and true soldier, we shall be disappointed. When he fails to do so, it will be time enough then to distrust.

----Eventnoov will agree that, whatever trouble and difficulty other Presidents may have had to annoy them, not one, since the beginning of the Government, has been surrounded with more embarrassments than Mr. LINCOLN, during the brief term of his service. Within that time, short as it is, there have been accumulated a greater number of stirring and startling events than have been compressed in all our history before-events which have put to the severest test both his firmness as a man and his fitness for the Presidency. We will not say that, in meeting these events as they have rapidly crowded apon each other, he is, in all respects, wholly without fault-for this would be to claim for him individual and political infallability-but it may be confidently asserted that his Adminiatration will occupy one of the brightest Buchanan entered upon the Presidency un other command. The General is ever view der the most favorable circumstances Thcountry was enjoying an unexampled prosperity, and peace reigned throughout its bor | enemy ders. But in less than four years, a portion of those who had elected him and who had controlled the policy of his Administrationwith the direct aid of traitors and disloyal members of his Cabinet-succeeded in arraying all the Gulf States in warlike attitude against the Government of the United States, and in inaugurating an ignominious effort to destroy the Union. These States passed ordinances of secession, declaring their absolute independence of the Federal Government and its authority, and demanded of him that he should so far recognize their independence as to remove the troops of the cesh, and subsisting on green blackberries and fox grapes.
